Short description	The PRO-A instrument aims at fostering career development and encouraging employees to remain in their jobs by offering an individual learning path, based on the alternate between formal learning and work. PRO-A replaces the former "période de professionnalisation ». The Pro-A scheme is intended for employees on permanent employment contracts (CDI); employees with a single integration contract (CUI) of unlimited duration; employees, sportsmen, and women or professional trainers, with a fixed-term employment contract (CDD). PRO-A is a work-based learning scheme for adults having at least a Bachelor's Degree. OPCOs are in charge of financing the PRO-A scheme. Government bodies include France Compétences and OPCOs. The type of education supported includes any formal learning leading to a formal qualification and provided by adult learning centers or by the company in case she has an adult learning department. Eligible costs include direct costs (tuition fees, daily allowance, travel/accommodation costs), that are supported by the OPCO. Each of the 11 OPCOs follow the priorities of the sectoral agreement, and financing formulas vary across OPCOs. The maximum amount of funding is EUR 3 000.

Recent changes	21-08-2019. The ordinance specifies that PRO A may also include actions that allow for the validation of acquired experience. The ordinance opens it up to employees placed on partial activity. Finally, it is specified that the list of professional certifications eligible for the Pro-A will be defined by an extended branch agreement in order to better target the system. This agreement stipulates that the remuneration of the Pro-A employee may be covered by the skills operator under conditions defined by decree. The Pro-A can also enable the acquisition of the professional knowledge and skills base. The most recent amendment fixes the conditions of implementation : eligible criteria, financial formula, duration. The ordinance introduces many new features to encourage retraining or promotion through work-study (Pro-A). Recent changes in response to COVID-19 No changes
