

Act enabling vocational higher education institutions (uczelnie praktyczne) to prepare future teachers for the teaching profession

POLICY DEVELOPMENTREGULATION/LEGISLATION POLAND

Timeline

2021 Approved/AgreedID number 42312

Background

The vocational higher education institution (HEI) provides education that takes into account socioeconomic needs by offering courses with a practical profile, where more than half of the European credit transfer and accumulation system's (ECTS) points are obtained in classes that shape practical skills. A vocational HEI, apart from first cycle studies, can also provide second cycle studies, uniform master's studies and specialist courses.

Objectives

The aim of the regulation is to distinguish vocational HEIs that meet the conditions set by the Act of 23 July 2021, which amended the Law on Higher Education and Science and the Introductory provisions to the Law on Higher Education and Science. The Act enables them to use the title of practical academy, and to educate future teachers without the need to sign an agreement with an authorised university. These solutions aim to provide vocational HEIs with greater recognition and reputation in local communities, to constitute an additional incentive to further develop their organisational potential and to improve the quality of education.

Description

If they meet specific conditions, the changes enable vocational HEIs with a vocational higher education institution (uczelnia zawodowa) status, to:

- offer courses preparing future teachers for the teaching profession without entering a cooperation agreement with a university, which has scientific achievements in the respective course discipline;
- use the words practical academy (akademia praktyczna) in its title.
