ID number 28381

Background

Definition of the legal framework for practising as an adult trainer in public administrations and services.

Objectives

Setting the legal framework for practising as adult trainer .

Description

The 2016 amendment of the 2011 adult trainer regulation, which sets the conditions for:

- admission to the initial training programme,
- the organisation of the programme and
- the examination giving access to the function of adult trainers.

The amendment requests candidates to have passed tests in all three official languages, instead of only two, before being allowed to take the entrance exam (concours) for the induction phase. It also confirmed the change in responsibility for adult trainer training from the Institute for Continuing Training (IFC) to the Training Institute for National Education (IFEN) established by legislation in 2015.
