Background

Information on the employability and destinations of VET graduates is important for targeted planning. By analysing these data, future VET programmes can be adjusted to labour market needs.

Objectives

To ensure quality of VET provisions and labour market relevance of VET skills and qualifications.

Description

In 2017, the Brussels Observatory for Employment changed its name and modified its missions to become view.brussels, the Brussels Observatory for Employment and Training. In response to the 2020 Training plan, which deepens the objectives of the 2025 strategy, it was decided to integrate and develop a number of specific missions in terms of the transition from employment to training.

View.brussels is in charge of:

- (a) observing and analysing the job market in the Brussels Region and defining skill needs and shortages in the labour market;
- (b) anticipating needs in terms of employment and training;
- (c) monitoring, analysing and evaluating the employment-training-employment transitions;
- (d) providing support and technical expertise to enlighten those involved in employment and training and feed their thinking.

To meet these challenges, view.brussels collaborates with various partners, the main ones being Bruxelles Formation, VDAB Brussel, Bassin Education-Formation-Emploi and Bansa.
