Background

Under the key priority Fostering Inclusion, the national Further Education and Training Strategy Future FET: Transforming Learning, Further Education and Training Strategy 2020-2024, a commitment was made to develop a community education framework by SOLAS, (the national agency for FET, and including Education and Training Boards (ETBs), community education providers, learners and other relevant stakeholders.

The intention of the framework is to ensure a more consistent approach to SOLAS funded community education across the country and allow the unique characteristics of community education to be reflected in how it is supported within FET. At the same time the framework ensures that it meets common FET requirements in terms of gathering basic learner data, linking to learning pathways, and offering consistent learner support.

Objectives

Community education takes a holistic, learner-centred approach and incorporates both formal and informal learning, addressing learners' personal development and building skills while offering educational opportunities through simplified pathways and the possibility of moving forward into the FET system and beyond. Community education fosters social cohesion and active citizenship, playing an important role in supporting a democratic society.

The Framework gives a foundation to help shape how SOLAS and the ETBs fund, coordinate, support, develop and monitor community education.

The National FET Strategy outlined seven (7) core principles underpinning Community Education Framework:

- (a) facilitating diversity of learning and learners;
- (b) ensuring consistency of support for community education;
- (c) embedding technologies to maximise community access;
- (d) delivering quality learning experiences;
- (e) linking to progression pathways within FET and beyond;
- (f) tailoring an approach to data and outcomes to reflect the delivery model;
- (g) working in partnership with ETBs to ensure a strategic approach.

Description

Developing the framework was a collective and collaborative process by the whole of the FET sector, focussing on the needs of learners, who were also a key stakeholder and consulted during the process of drafting the framework.

A writing group was set up that included many different stakeholders in the FET Sector. This group was an important space to discuss ideas and challenges and was imperative for shaping the final content.

There was a 12-month development process, comprising four phases:

Phase 1 - Bespoke research on community education,

Phase 2 - Desk-based research,

Phase 3 - Key stakeholder consultation,

Phase 4 - Finalising the framework.

The final published draft of the Community Education Framework outlines how positive changes will be enacted in the Further Education and Training (FET) sector:

How we learn through community education – optimising learner supports, financial aid for costs, digital learning, a collaborative approach and partnership.

How we provide community education – FET pathway courses, listing providers, Memoranda of Understanding (MOUs) to underpin partnerships, accreditation options and professional learning and development of practitioners.

How we co-ordinate community education – capturing the wider benefits of learning, simplified data gathering, alignment with the national ten-year Adult Literacy for Life (All Strategy) and address regional gaps in provision.

How we fund community education – consistent funding approaches, national funding, staffing and resources and cross-department funding.

The framework includes 24 recommended actions to implement for the above areas.

2024 Approved/Agreed

The Minister for Further and Higher Education, Research, Innovation and Science launched the Community Education Framework in July 2024.

SOLAS, the national agency for funding and co-ordinating Further Education and Training (FET) established a National Implementation Steering Group to manage the implementation of the actions identified in the Community Education Framework under the four areas: Learn, Provide, Co-ordinate and Fund.

The Steering Group comprises representatives from key stakeholder groups including ETBs, ETBI, community education providers, the Department of Further and Higher Education, Research, Innovation and Science (DFHERIS), the Department of Rural and Community Development, the Community Education Facilitators Association (CEFA), POBAL and AONTAS.

The Steering Group met twice in 2024 focussing on initial actions aiming to implement the recommendations in the Community Education Framework.

Action 4

The needs of community education providers and learners are considered as part of the national Digital Learning Framework for FET, which includes digital skills and blended learning and addressing the digital divide.

Action 6

Development of local and regional engagement strategy to enhance collaboration and partnership, including mapping stakeholders.

Action 13

Regular training needs analysis to identify targeted professional learning and development (PLD) initiatives.

Action 18

Developing a more effective and collaborative community education response to unmet literacy needs with Regional Literacy Co-ordinators under the Adult Literacy for Life (ALL) strategy.
