

Activity 5: Guide for planning and conducting a workshop

Description

What the guide is for

This guide is intended to help bring together government representatives at national, regional or local level and stakeholders in the field of Vocational Education and Training (VET). It provides a method and structure to involve them in the development of an action plan to improve the national, regional or local strategy to tackle early leaving from VET.

How to use the guide

This guide proposes concrete steps to conduct a workshop at national level, and includes the use of a reflection and planning tool to help participants identify gaps in national policies and propose actions to address these gaps.

Beneficiaries

The guide is designed for government officers at national, regional or local level in charge of policies to tackle early leaving from VET.

Downloads

 Activity 5: Guide for planning and conducting a workshop

EN