

CEDEFOP

European Centre for the Development of Vocational Training

Apprenticeship in Sweden: current and future steps

HAMPUS STRÖMBERG, MINISTRY OF EDUCATION AND RESEARCH
(SWEDEN)

Presentation held at the Cedefop event 'Governance and financing of apprenticeships', Brussels, 8 and 9 February 2016

GOVERNANCE AND FINANCING OF
apprenticeships

CEDEFOP EVENT

BRUSSELS
8 and 9 February 2016

Apprenticeship in Sweden - current and future steps

hampus.stromberg@gov.se

A start for development

- It is a starting point.
- This version of Swedish apprenticeship is what was best to introduce at that time.
- It is a trigger for development of quality, cooperation and attractiveness.
- Introduction of apprenticeship training effects school based VET.

Positive signs

- Increasing interest by social partners, branches and industry firms
- Workplace tutors very committed & ask for support
- Employers want to help young people and contribute to training the future workforce
- 85% of employers willing to train again
- Most apprentices happy with their training

Future steps (1)

- Attractivity
- Quality
- Employed apprentices

Future steps (2)

- Strengthen cooperation with working life
- Strengthen regional cooperation
- Better opportunities for VET in adult education
- Develop branch schools

Thank you!