4.5 Assessment of applications against preselection criteria

The Selection Board assesses your application to decide if you should be invited to a written test and interview.

The essential preselection criteria are used as exclusion criteria. Failure to satisfy one or more of essential preselection criteria will result in exclusion from the selection.

If your application fulfils all essential preselection criteria it will be assessed and scored against the other preselection criteria. The non-fulfilment of one or more of the other preselection criteria will not result in your exclusion from the preselection process but will impact your score and hence your chances of being invited for test and interview.

In the preselection phase, candidates may be contacted for a telephone interview to check the facts presented in the application documents or they may be asked to provide clarifications in writing. The telephone interview and/or a written clarification request are an intermediate step in the preselection. It does not entitle candidates to be invited for an interview and a written test.

On the basis of the preselection assessment, the Selection Board will draw up a list of the highest scoring candidates, who will be invited for a written test and an interview.

4.6 Interview and written test

If you are invited to attend an interview and a written test, you will receive an invitation letter by email. The invitation letter contains all practical details. The interviews and tests are normally held at Cedefop in Thessaloniki, Greece and they are conducted in English.

The vacancy notice description of professional knowledge and competences requirements serves as the basis for the content of the written test and the interview questions. The interview will focus on competences relevant for the position in question. For some positions the interview might comprise a short presentation given by the applicant.

The written tests are provided to the Selection Board for marking in an anonymised form. In case English is your mother tongue, your knowledge of the second EU language (as specified in your application) will be tested in the interview.

The duration of the interview and the written test can vary from one selection procedure to another and you will be duly informed about it. The respective weights given to the interview and the written test in the total score are stated in the vacancy notice.

If needed, a second interview may be organised. The second interview will focus on overall suitability of the candidate for the post, covering motivation, relevant technical and behavioural competences, in line with the selection criteria established in the vacancy notice. The second interview will take place either in Thessaloniki or remotely (Skype or similar).

4.7 Middle management positions

The selection process for middle management positions includes additional steps, namely an assessment centre and an interview with the Executive Director and a least one member of Cedefop’s management.

4.8 List of suitable candidates/reserve list and appointment

Following the written tests and interviews, the Selection Board proposes to the Executive Director applicants to be included in the list of suitable candidates/reserve list. To be placed on the list you must score a minimum total score as defined in the vacancy notice. This minimum total score is normally 60%, but may vary according to the procedure.

The Executive Director approves the list of suitable candidates/reserve list and decides to which candidate a job offer letter will be sent. Cedefop sends the job offer only after having checked all necessary supporting documents. The appointment will be confirmed only after a medical clearance by the Medical Services of the EU.

The validity period of list of suitable candidates/reserve list is stated in the vacancy notice. Based on the needs of the service, the validity may be extended upon decision of the Executive Director. Placement on the list does not guarantee recruitment.

The appointed candidate(s) will undergo a probation period of nine months.

4.9 Duration of selection procedures

As an indication only, the selection procedures take on average three to four months from the date on which the position is published to the decision to offer the post.
