Beata DZIEMIŃSKA-SKOWRON

Current position

Chief expert, Department of Strategy, Qualifications and Vocational Education,
Unit of Labour Market Monitoring

Ministry of Education and Science, Warsaw, Poland

At the Ministry of Education and Science, after two years' experience of dealing with the legislative process related to the classification of VET occupations and the organisation of VET schools, currently I am involved in the labour market monitoring. My responsibility is to prepare organisational and legal solutions in the field of adapting vocational education to the needs of labour market as well as vocational counselling and career guidance. I also contribute to the implementation of graduate tracking system and the forecast of the demand for employees in VET occupations on national and regional labour market. I am the Ministry's representative in the EU expert and working groups.

A philologist and manager by education, in the past I worked in the state administration and private sector, then served for more than ten years as a secondary school teacher, and for a couple of years as a school headmaster.
