

Robert Plummer

Robert has been working as an adviser in the social affairs department at BusinessEurope since May 2012. He is responsible for issues concerning employment, education and skills and migration/mobility policy.

Prior to joining BusinessEurope, Robert worked as a political adviser for the Alliance of Liberals and Democrats for Europe (ALDE) Party between December 2005 and May 2012.

Robert studied at Keele University in the UK and holds degrees in Human Geography and Human Resource Management (BA) and European Industrial Relations and Human Resource Management (MA).