A photograph of three people in a workshop setting. On the left, a young man in a dark blue shirt looks at a control panel. In the center, a young woman with blonde hair in a ponytail, also in a dark blue shirt, looks towards the right. On the right, an older man with grey hair, wearing a dark blue shirt, is gesturing with his hands as if explaining something. The control panel they are looking at has a small screen displaying a table of numbers, several buttons, and a large yellow emergency stop button. The background shows a typical industrial workshop environment with various tools and equipment.
